

Grandma's Bed

Where's Grandma's bed the family said,
As they visited, the old Homestead.
Memories arose of stories told
As they remembered, the old feather bed.
A shiny brass knob, a porcelain or two,
The elusive bed, was hidden from view.

They searched high and they searched low,
And finally in the old cow shed.
Alone and dusty and even rusty,
They found the long lost bed.

So if you have a similar story,
Have your bed restored to its' former glory.
Timeless Antiques is the place to go,
Put Grandma's bed again on show.
